INTRODUCTION

In 1985, Chapter 792 of the 1985 Session Laws (House Bill 344) created the Simplified Business Licensing Study Commission and authorized it to study the current system of issuing business licenses. The Commission was further authorized to study the advisability of creating a business license center to provide a convenient and accessible one-stop system for the business community to acquire and maintain the necessary State licenses to do business.

COMMISSION PROCEEDINGS

The Simplified Business Licensing Study Commission met three times. Prior to the first meeting the Cochairmen instructed the Commission Counsel to survey all State agencies to compile a list of State licenses and permits that are required to do business in North Carolina. Counsel compiled a mailing list of State agencies and sent a survey form to each agency requesting that it provide a list of the types of licenses, permits, certifications, or any other authorization issued by the agency to any type of business. Information was also requested about application procedures, application forms, application fees, processing time, statutory authority, agencies other than the licensing agency that are involved in the licensing process, and the criteria considered in granting each license or permit listed in the survey. The survey results were compiled and reviewed by Commission counsel. The most pertinent information culled by the Commission counsel and the Commission clerk from the survey results (twelve volumes) was entered by the Commission clerk in the legislative computer system.

At its first meeting, the Commission considered a computer printout of the survey analysis prepared by the Commission staff. The Commission also discussed features of one-stop systems in other states based on a comparison of those systems that had been prepared by Commission counsel. Mr. Greg Romberg, Director of the Office of Regulatory Reform in Colorado, also addressed the Commission. He discussed the procedures adopted by Colorado to implement a one-stop system and explained how that system is currently working.

At the second meeting, Mr. Ken Mark, Assistant Director for the Department of Licensing and head of the Business Licensing Services in the state of Washington addressed the Commission. Mr. Mark discussed the one-stop licensing system in Washington and answered questions from the Commission about how Washington had implemented its program. He also informed the Commission that the system in Washington is one of the oldest in the country and has been used as a model system by several other states.

The Commission then considered a proposed model of a one-stop system for North Carolina. The Commission requested that legislation to implement a one-stop system based on the model be drafted for consideration at its next meeting.

At its third meeting, the Commission discussed the legislative draft, recommended the attached bill, entitled "A BILL TO BE ENTITLED AN ACT TO ESTABLISH THE BUSINESS LICENSE INFORMATION OFFICE.", and adopted this report.

FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

In studying the current system of issuing business licenses, the Commission focused on several aspects of the system that are frustrating to the business community in North Carolina.

Identification of problems.

Currently, there is no complete list of State licenses required for business undertakings in North Carolina. While some agencies offer lists of the licenses that they issue, many do not. Because there is no directory or central office that can provide information about State business licenses, a businessman often calls several agencies to inquire whether permits or licenses issued by that agency are needed to conduct a particular type of business, repeating the same information in each phone call.

Once the necessary forms and information are obtained, additional time is consumed by filling out forms that often duplicate information requests, and in dealing with each agency separately if there are questions about an application, license requirements, or the license review process.

Findings.

According to the survey conducted by the Commission, a total of 447 different types of business licenses are issued by State agencies. Of the total, 188 are issued by the Department of Revenue and 179 of those are issued by the License and Excise Tax Division. This accounts for 42 percent of the total number of licenses issued. The Department of Commerce issues 60 types of licenses. Forty-seven of those are issued by the ABC Commission. Together the Department of Revenue and the Department of Commerce account for more than half of the business licenses issued. A list of the types of the departments that issue ten or more different types of licenses follows:

Department	Number of License Types
Agriculture	48
Commerce	60 (47 from ABC Commission)
Human Resources	30
Insurance	16
Justice	13
NRCD	37
Revenue	188 (179 from License and Excise Tax Division)
Transportation	14 (13 from Division of Motor Vehicles)

Occupational Licensing Boards account for 32 other different types of licenses.

Based on the survey results, the Commission found that the number of types of State business licenses issued is large and divided among many agencies. The lack of a complete list of these licenses and a central office to assist in securing information about the State's license requirements and in working through the application and license review process is unduly cumbersome to the business community.

Based on the survey results and after analyzing application forms for the above licenses, the Commission identified several recurring items or areas of information requested by agencies. Many of these could easily be consolidated into a single application form, ending unnecessary duplication.

In comparing the one-stop systems of other states, the Commission was most impressed with those in Colorado and Washington. After further study, the Commission determined that Washington state would be an appropriate model for North Carolina to follow in establishing its own system. However appropriate modifications should be made to the Washington system to respond to the particular needs of this State's business community.

Recommendation.

The Commission recommends that a one-stop licensing system be adopted as proposed by the following bill.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED
AN ACT TO ESTABLISH THE BUSINESS LICENSE INFORMATION OFFICE.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. Chapter 147 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new Article to read:

"Article 5B.

"Business License Information Office.

"S 147-54.11. Purpose. It is the purpose of this Article to provide a convenient, accessible, and timely one-stop system for the business community to acquire and maintain the necessary State licenses to conduct business. To accomplish this goal, a business license information office is established to provide information to the business community on all State licensing and regulatory requirements and, to the extent feasible, to provide local and federal information on the same regulated activities. In addition to providing information on State licensing requirements, the business license information office shall develop and implement a master license system that will reduce the paperwork burden on business, and promote the elimination of obsolete and duplicative licensing requirements by consolidating existing licenses and applications.

It is the intent of the General Assembly that the authority for determining whether a requested license shall be issued shall remain with the agency legally authorized to issue the license.

(3) that the application is denied, and the reasons for the denial.

When an agency approves an application for a license, it shall notify the Office and the applicant of the approval. (d) After notification by a State agency that a license application is approved and receipt of the license, the Office shall forward the license and any other necessary materials to the applicant. It shall be the responsibility of the applicant to appeal a condition imposed on a license or the denial of a license through the normal appeal process established by the agency with jurisdiction for the issuance of a license or by the Administrative Procedures Act.

(b) Each agency shall designate a business license coordinator. The coordinator shall have the following responsibilities:

(1) To provide to the Office the most recent application and supplemental forms required for each license issued by the agency, the most recent information available on existing and proposed agency rules, the most recent information on changes or proposed changes in license requirements or agency rules and how those changes will affect the business community, and agency publications that would be of aid or interest to the business community;

(2) To work with the Office in scheduling conferences for applicants as provided under G.S. 147-54.15;

EXPLANATION OF LEGISLATION

This bill creates a one-stop State business licensing system. The purpose of the system is to establish for the business community a central office to provide information on State license and permit requirements and the forms needed to obtain the necessary licenses and permits. The office will also assist applicants in understanding the requirements and in filling out the required documents. The system also includes a master application developed to eliminate the duplication that often occurs if several licenses are needed to operate a business.

The one-stop simplified business licensing system applies to licenses, permits, certificates, and any other type of authorization that must be obtained to do business in North Carolina. However, the bill specifically excludes occupational licenses and licenses required to operate a motor vehicle from coverage under the one-stop system.

Under the bill, a Business License Information Office is established and is located administratively in the Department of the Secretary of State. The office is given rule making authority to carry out the purposes of this legislation. The Office may also make recommendations to State agencies and to the legislature for improving the State business licensing procedure and for eliminating, simplifying, or consolidating licenses affecting business undertakings.

The office has three main areas of responsibility: to serve as a clearinghouse for State business license information, to provide assistance to applicants who request help in working through the licensing process, and to develop and implement a master application system.

As a clearinghouse for State business license information, the office must compile, classify, and distribute to the public the information and forms needed to obtain the licenses required to conduct any business activity proposed by an applicant. The office must prepare, publish, and distribute a complete directory of all State licenses that may be required to do business in North Carolina.

A number of services are available from the office, upon request, to assist a potential applicant in working through the licensing process. The office will work with an applicant to determine the specific licenses needed for his proposed business and the possible problems that may be encountered in obtaining those licenses. The office will arrange conferences with appropriate agencies to clarify licensing requirements, assist in preparing forms, and track the progression of a license application through the agency review process. If an applicant encounters problems in obtaining the license, the office will try to help resolve the dispute.

The office is also directed to develop and implement a master application system. The master application system is to be computerized and capable of storing, retrieving, and exchanging license information. The system is also to be designed with attention to statutory requirements that the confidentiality of some information must be protected. The office is directed to identify the licenses that are appropriate for a master application system and then develop a form that consolidates the information needed by agencies to determine whether it is appropriate to issue the licenses.

Under the proposed system an applicant will fill out a master application and leave it at the office. The office will then submit copies of the application to the appropriate State agencies. Those agencies must return a written response to the office and applicant indicating that issuance of the license requested is approved, approved subject to certain conditions, or disapproved. The reasons for conditions attached to a license or for denial of a license must be included in the agency response. An agency shall notify both the office and the applicant when it approves an application for a license and shall send the license and any supplementary materials to the office unless the applicant has requested that the license and other materials be mailed directly to him and not the office. If the applicant requests that the license be mailed to him rather than the office, the agency will honor that request. The office will forward to the applicant the licenses and other essential materials issued by an agency when they are received by the office. The applicant is responsible for appealing the denial of a license.

The bill provides that the total fee for all licenses requested by the master application must be submitted with the master application. The office will collect the monies and then distribute the appropriate amount to each agency according to the agency's fee schedule.

The bill directs each agency to cooperate fully with the office in carrying out its responsibilities and to designate a business license coordinator to work with the office in providing the information and assistance needed by applicants. The license coordinator must submit to the office a written report listing agency license requirements, reviewing and explaining the need for those requirements, and indicating which ones could be modified, consolidated or eliminated. The license coordinator is also to assist as requested by the office in developing and implementing the master application system.

Section 2 of the bill sets out a schedule indicating the time periods within which the office must phase in the one-stop system.

Section 3 of the bill is a severability clause.

Section 4 of the bill is an appropriations provision.

The effective date of the bill is October 1, 1987. The bill further provides for the Department of the Secretary of State to report annually to the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations on its progress in establishing the one-stop system.

MEMORANDUM

TO: State Board and Agency Heads

FROM: Emily Johnson, Counsel to Simplified Business
Licensing Study Commission ej

The Simplified Business Licensing Study Commission was created by the General Assembly this past session to study the current system of issuing business licenses. The Commission will also consider the feasibility of creating a business license center that would provide a one-stop system for the business community to acquire and maintain the necessary State licenses to do business. Representative Martin Lancaster and Senator J.J. Harrington, cochairmen of the Commission, have asked that I survey all State government agencies to compile a complete list of the licenses and permits issued to businesses and to gather information on the systems and procedures followed in issuing those licenses and permits.

Attached to this memorandum is a survey form. Representative Lancaster and Senator Harrington request that you complete this form and return both it and any additional materials requested to the address indicated on the form. For the purposes of this study, it is important to know which agencies do not issue business licenses or permits as well as which agencies do issue business licenses or permits. Therefore, even if your agency does not issue business licenses or permits, please fill out the first page of the survey form and return it as indicated on the sheet. If you have any questions about the survey or need additional forms, please do not hesitate to call me.
